2. Applying for insurance cover

New members joining Centric Super are not eligible to apply for insurance cover.

If you are an existing member of Centric Super with insurance cover, you can apply to add or increase insurance cover by contacting your Nominated Financial Adviser or asking Centric Super for an application form. Depending on the level of cover you wish to apply for you may be asked to provide health evidence, and financial evidence if the cover you have elected is above a certain limit.

You can apply to add or increase Life or Life and TPD or Income Protection cover by completing the relevant application form, which contains limited eligibility questions. The Insurer may require you to provide further evidence to assess your application, depending on answers you provided on the application.

Your Nominated Financial Adviser will be able to assist you in determining the amount and type of cover you require.

Your duty to take reasonable care

When you apply for life insurance, you have a legal duty to take reasonable care not to make a misrepresentation to the Insurer before the contract of insurance is entered into.

A misrepresentation is a false answer, an answer that is only partially true, or an answer which does not fairly reflect the truth.

This duty applies to a new contract of insurance and also applies when extending or making changes to existing insurance, and reinstating insurance.

² For transfers of Life and/or Life and TPD the maximum cover amount is $1.5 million in total, including any existing cover.

³ For transfer of Income Protection cover the limit is $10,000 per month.

When you apply for life insurance, the Insurer conducts a process called underwriting. It's how the Insurer decides whether it can cover you, and if so, on what terms and at what cost.

The Insurer will ask questions it needs to know the answers to. These will be about your personal circumstances, such as your health and medical history, occupation, income, lifestyle, pastimes, and current and past insurance. The information you give the Insurer in response to its questions is vital to its decision.

If you do not meet your duty

If you do not meet your legal duty, this can have serious impacts on your insurance. There are different remedies that may be available to the Insurer. These are set out in the Insurance Contracts Act 1984 (Cth). These are intended to put the Insurer in the position it would have been in if the duty had been met.

Your cover could be avoided (treated as if it never existed), or its terms may be varied. This may also result in a claim being declined or a benefit being reduced.

Please note that there may be circumstances where the Insurer later investigates whether the information given to it was true. For example, it may do this when a claim is made.

Before the Insurer exercises any of these remedies, it will explain its reasons and what you can do if you disagree.

Guidance for answering our questions

You are responsible for the information provided to the Insurer. When answering its questions, please:

- think carefully about each question before you answer. If you are unsure of the meaning of any question, please ask before you respond.
- answer every question.
- answer truthfully, accurately and completely. If you are unsure about whether you should include information, please include it.
- review your application carefully before it is submitted. If someone else helped prepare your application (for example, your Nominated Financial Adviser), please check every answer (and if necessary, make any corrections) before the application is submitted.

Changes before your cover starts

Before your cover starts, we may ask about any changes that mean you would now answer our questions differently. As any changes might require further assessment or investigation, it could save time if you let us know about any changes when they happen.

If you need help

It's important that you understand this information and the questions we ask. Ask us or a person you trust, such as your Nominated Financial Adviser for help if you have difficulty understanding the process of buying insurance or answering our questions.

If you're having difficulty due to a disability, understanding English or for any other reason, we're here to help. If you want, you can have a support person you trust with you.

Notifying the Insurer

If, after the cover starts, you think you may not have met your duty, please contact us immediately and we'll let you know whether it has any impact on the cover.

Am I eligible for interim accident cover?

While the Insurer is assessing your application to add or increase cover, you will receive interim accident cover for the amount of cover you have applied for, up to the maximum amounts. The maximum amount of benefit that will be paid as a result of an accident is $1,000,000 for life or TPD and $15,000 per month for two years for income protection.

For example, if you have applied for life and TPD cover of $800,000 and income protection cover of $6,000 per month and if you were to become disabled as a result of an accident while the Insurer assesses your application, you will be eligible to claim for these amounts.

The insurance benefit is only payable if you die or become disabled within 120 days of being involved in an accident.

Interim accident cover will continue until the earliest of:

- the date you withdraw your application for insurance cover or additional insurance cover
- the date the Insurer accepts your application for cover or additional insurance cover on standard or special terms
- the date the Insurer rejects your application for insurance cover or additional insurance cover
- the date a benefit becomes payable
- the date the Insurer cancels the interim accident cover, or
- 120 days from the date you applied for insurance cover or additional insurance cover.

Interim accident cover is subject to the same exclusions, limitations, restrictions and claim procedures that apply under the policy.

If you are entitled to make a claim your application for cover is automatically cancelled. In addition, the Insurer will require payment of insurance fees (premiums) for the period from the date you applied for cover to the date of the accident.

Can I keep my insurance cover if travelling overseas?

Once you have cover you will continue to be covered if you leave Australia. The maximum time that the Insurer will pay an income protection benefit while a person is outside Australia is six months. After that time, you will need to return to Australia to continue receiving income protection benefits, unless the Insurer is satisfied that you are unable to return to Australia for medical reasons.

If you place a claim for an insurance benefit while overseas, you may need to return to Australia at your own expense in order to complete medical assessment requirements for the Insurer.

How do I increase my cover?

You may apply to increase your insurance cover at any time, up to the maximum amounts offered, by contacting your Nominated Financial Adviser or asking the Centric Super for an application form. You may need to provide health and financial evidence to the Insurer.

When does my cover start?

You will be advised of the start date for your cover in writing. Your cover commences when the Insurer has accepted your application.

Increasing your cover when you get married or become a parent

If you get married or become a parent, you can apply to increase your life and/or TPD cover by completing the Future Insurability Options form. The maximum increase permitted without providing any medical evidence is the lesser of $100,000 or 25% of your current sum insured.

The following conditions apply:

- if both life and TPD insurance is held then you must increase both in proportion
- you apply and provide satisfactory evidence within 60 days of the event occurring
- you can only exercise this option once in a 12-month period, and
- any increase in your cover is subject to the same exclusions and special conditions as your previous level of cover.

Increase in cover will be effective the day your application is accepted by the Insurer. Any increase in insurance fees will also be effective the same day.

How do I reduce or cancel my cover?

You can cancel or reduce your insurance cover at any time by either contacting Centric Super or completing the Insurance variation form. Before electing to reduce or cancel insurance cover, you should obtain advice from your Nominated Financial Adviser.

Your insurance fees and insurance cover will reduce or cease from the day we receive your request.

If we cancel your insurance cover, you'll no longer have insurance fees deducted from your super. You'll only be able to make an insurance claim for events that occurred before your cover was cancelled.

You will not be able to reapply for cover.

When does cover cease?

Your cover ends in Centric Super on the earliest of the following:

- the date a benefit becomes payable for you that reduces your insured cover to nil
- the date a terminal illness or TPD benefit becomes payable for you (income protection cover only)
- on your birthday when you reach the cover expiry age, which is 75 for life cover, where you have life and TPD cover, TPD cover expires at 70 and 65 for income protection cover
- the day we receive your request to cancel your insured cover, or on another date the Insurer agrees in writing
- three consecutive months after you first have insufficient funds in Centric Super Cash to pay your insurance fees
- if you join the armed forces of any country other than the Australian Armed Forces Reserve
- the date of your death
- the date the policy ends
- when you leave Centric Super
- the date the law requires your cover to be cancelled, or
- your Portfolio becomes inactive (as described below).

Where a TPD benefit is paid, the amount of death cover is reduced by the amount of TPD benefit paid.

Inactive Portfolios

If we don't receive a contribution or rollover to your super Portfolio for a continuous period of 16 months (inactive Portfolio), we are required by law to cancel your insurance cover before your next insurance fees are due, unless you opt-in to keep your cover by instructing Centric Super in writing.

3. The costs associated with insurance

How do I calculate the cost of my cover?

Insurance fees in Centric Super are the cost of your insurance cover and are made up of insurance premiums plus any loadings and stamp duty as relevant. Centric Super does not charge an insurance administration fee.

The cost of your insurance cover will be advised to you in writing at the time your cover is accepted. It will depend on the type and level of your cover, your age, gender, whether you smoke and what occupation classification you have been accepted for.

The occupational loading is dependent on your type of occupation classification. To update your occupational classification, either email Centric Super or complete the Insurance Variation form.

Occupational classifications
Professional	White-collar professionals performing no manual duties (e.g. doctor, lawyer, accountant). Usually those with a tertiary qualification or registered with a professional body (they must be using these qualifications in their occupation). Must earn more than $80,000 per annum.
White Collar	Clerical, administration and managerial occupations involving office duties only. Include those who do less than 10% light manual duties (e.g. administrator, book-keeper, computer operator).
Light Blue Collar	Certain light-manual skilled workers e.g. photocopy/TV repairers, purchasing officer, travelling sales representatives, claims/loss assessor, business owners in non-hazardous industries.
Medium Blue Collar	Qualified tradespeople involved in non-hazardous industries doing light manual work e.g. cabinet-maker (qualified), carpenter (qualified), plumber (qualified), mechanic (qualified).
Heavy Blue Collar	Heavy manual workers, unskilled or performing higher risk occupations e.g. interstate bus driver, armoured vehicle driver, warehouse worker, groundsman, carpet layer, house removalist.

Occupational classifications

Hazardous

Hazardous occupations including abalone diver, airline crew and pilots, asbestos worker, boulder, entertainer (actor, dancer, musician), fire fighters, forestry worker, horse racing industry (jockey, strapper or trainer), miners, offshore worker (fisherman, oil rig worker or diver), police, professional sportspeople, security guard, sex worker, those working at heights above 10 metres, underground workers.

The premium rates and occupational loadings applicable are available on pages 33 to 38.

The following examples use sample rates for the purposes of illustration and are not representative of what premiums may be applicable to you.

Example 1

Sue is turning 50 on her next birthday and has an annual income of $42,000. She is a non-smoker and works in the resource sector, meaning heavy blue collar occupation loadings apply.

Life and TPD sum insured = $400,000

Insurance fee = sum insured ÷ $100,000 × premium rate × occupational loading applicable

Life: $$400,000 \div $100,000 \times $12.77 \times 130\% = \66.40 per month

TPD: $$400,000 \div $100,000 \times $11.90 \times 200\% = \95.20 per month

Therefore, the total annual insurance fee is $1,939.25.

Example 2

Kate is turning 30 on her next birthday and has an income of $180,000. She has selected a 90-day waiting period and an age 65 benefit period. She is a smoker, and as a professional employee an occupation loading of 90% applies.

Income protection sum insured: $$180,000 \times 75\% = $135,000$

$$135,000 \div 12$ months = $11,250 monthly benefit

Insurance cost fee = insured monthly benefit ÷ $1,000 × premium rate applicable × occupational loading

$$11,250 \div $1,000 \times $13.50 \times 90\% = \136.69 per month

Therefore, the annual insurance fee is $1,640.25.

Example 3

Jonathan is turning 46 on his next birthday, is a non-smoker and works as a factory hand, meaning Medium Blue Collar occupation loadings apply.

Life sum insured = $700,000

TPD sum insured = $500,000

Insurance fee = sum insured ÷ $100,000 × premium rate × occupational loading applicable

Life: $$700,000 \div $100,000 \times $10.72 \times 125\% = \93.80 per month

TPD: $$500,000 \div $100,000 \times $6.71 \times 125\% = \41.94 per month

Therefore, the total insurance fee is $135.74 per month or $1,628.85 per annum.

How do I pay insurance fees?

Insurance fees are automatically deducted at the end of the month from Centric Super Cash in your Centric Super Portfolio and paid in arrears to the Insurer. Any Stamp Duty is paid to the State Government by the Insurer.

You need to ensure there is sufficient cash available in your Portfolio to meet your monthly insurance fee.

What happens if there is insufficient cash to pay the insurance fees?

Where you have insufficient cash to pay your insurance fees, you or your Nominated Financial Adviser will be notified and requested to disinvest and top up your cash.

If the insurance fee cannot be paid to the Insurer due to insufficient funds in your account for three consecutive months, we will advise you that your insurance cover has lapsed. You can reinstate your cover within 90 days of your cover ceasing by completing and sending the Reinstatement and declaration of health for voluntary cover form.

Reinstating lapsed/cancelled cover

Your lapsed or cancelled cover can be reinstated because your Portfolio:

- had insufficient funds to pay the insurance fees when due, or
- hadn't received a contribution or a rollover for 16 consecutive months.

Cover that is reinstated will be the same type and level that existed before cover lapsed, with the same conditions, exclusions and/or loadings.

To be eligible for your cover to be reinstated, you will need to:

- tell us you want your cover reinstated within 90 days of the date your cover lapsed by sending us a completed Reinstatement and declaration of health for voluntary cover form, and
- have sufficient cash in your Portfolio to pay for the insurance fees relating to the period where your cover was lapsed.

If you are eligible, then the reinstatement will be effective from the date your cover lapsed.

If, after the 90 days have passed, you decide to reinstate insurance cover, then you will not be eligible for your cover to be reinstated. You will have to apply to the insurer for new cover, and their underwriters will assess your application.

Will the insurance fees change?

Premiums generally increase as your age increases. This means that your insurance fees increase if your premium increases. Premiums are calculated based on your age at your next birthday on your cover start date and will be updated each year on 1 July.

If you have selected to have your cover amount increased in line with the CPI, your sum insured will be amended to take advantage of this increase, up to a maximum increase of 7.5% on 1 July each year. A minimum increase of 3% per annum will be applied each year. This will also have an effect on your premium amount.

Your premium will also change where you apply to increase or reduce your cover.

Premiums may also change where you advise the Insurer that you have changed your details, including (but not limited to) changes to your occupation, smoking status, benefit period and waiting period.

The Insurer may also change the premium rates and we will give you at least 30 days advance notice of any increase.

Insurance fees are deducted from Centric Super Cash from your Centric Super Portfolio at the end of each month. Therefore, if these payments aren't offset by regular super contributions or rollovers, it will reduce your Portfolio balance.

4. Life and Total and Permanent Disablement insurance

What types of cover are available?

Life insurance

You can apply to increase Life only cover if you are less than 69 years old and an Australian permanent resident. You can apply to increase Life and TPD insurance cover if you are less than 64 years old and an Australian permanent resident.

The following life cover types are offered:

- Life cover – a lump sum benefit payable in the event of terminal illness or the death of the member
- Life and TPD cover – a lump sum benefit payable in the event of death, terminal illness or total and permanent disablement of the member.

If you have life cover, a terminal illness benefit is payable if you are certified by at least two medical practitioners as having a terminal medical condition. One practitioner must specialise in the illness or injury you suffer from and both practitioners must certify that despite reasonable medical treatment, you are likely to die from the illness or injury within a period that ends not more than 24 months from the date of the certification. The date of certification by the medical practitioners must occur while you are covered under the policy. The terminal illness benefit cannot exceed $2 million.

You have the option to have your cover amount indexed at the time of application, subject to providing health evidence to the insurer. This means your cover amount increases effective 1 July each year, in line with CPI at a minimum of 3% and up to a maximum of 7.5% pa.

Total and Permanent Disability insurance

TPD cover is not available as a stand-alone insurance option and must be combined with life cover. The TPD sum insured cannot exceed the amount of life cover or $3 million, whichever is lesser.

TPD Definitions

There are a number of TPD definitions, each of which is described below.

You will be considered totally and permanently disabled if:

Loss of limbs and/or sight

You suffer, as a result of illness or injury:

- the complete and irrecoverable loss of use of two limbs

- blindness in both eyes, or
- the complete and irrecoverable loss of use of one limb and blindness in one eye.

And where the date of disablement occurs on or after 1 July 2014, in the opinion of the Insurer, on the basis of medical and other evidence satisfactory to the Insurer, the insured member is unlikely to ever be able to engage in any occupation whether or not for reward where:

- limb means the whole hand below the wrist or whole foot below the ankle, and
- blindness means the permanent loss of sight in both eyes due to illness or injury to the extent that visual acuity is 6/60 or less in both eyes, or to the extent that the visual field is reduced to 20 degrees or less of arc whether aided or unaided and all as certified by an ophthalmologist.

Unable to look after yourself ever again

You suffer as a result of illness or injury, the total inability to perform any two of the following 'activities of daily living' or all of the 'defined home duties' without the physical assistance of another person. In the insurer's opinion, you are permanently and irreversibly unable to do so for life and the Insurer considers that on the basis of medical and other evidence satisfactory to it, you are unlikely to ever be able to engage in any occupation whether or not for reward.

Activities of daily living

- dressing – the ability to put on and take off clothing
- toileting – the ability to use the toilet, including getting on and off
- mobility – the ability to get in and out of bed and on and off a chair
- continence – the ability to control bowel and bladder function
- feeding – the ability to get food from a plate into the mouth
- bathing – the ability to wash yourself either in the bath or shower or by sponge bath without the standby assistance of another person and you are permanently and irreversibly unable to do so for life.

Defined Home Duties

- cleaning the usual place of dwelling
- purchasing household food and items used for cleaning
- preparing meals for the household
- performing for the household laundry services such as washing or ironing.

Unlikely to do any suited occupation ever again because of a specific medical condition

You were, on the date of disablement, aged 65 years or less and:

- are absent from all work as a result of suffering from one or more of the following conditions: cardiomyopathy, primary pulmonary hypertension, major head trauma with permanent neurological deficit, motor neurone disease, multiple sclerosis with impairment, muscular dystrophy, paraplegia, quadriplegia, hemiplegia, diplegia, dementia and Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease with impairment, blindness, loss of speech, loss of hearing in both ears, chronic lung disease or severe rheumatoid arthritis (each as defined in the Schedule of Medical Definitions on page 30)

- the Insurer considers, on the basis of medical and other evidence satisfactory to them, you are unlikely ever to be able to engage in any occupation, whether or not for reward, and
- you are likely to be so disabled for life.

Unable to perform domestic duties or child rearing ever again

If you were engaged in full time domestic duties or child rearing at the time of the illness or injury, then you will only be considered totally and permanently disabled if:

- through illness or injury, you are unable to perform domestic duties or child rearing and have been confined to the home for a period of six consecutive months and you are under the regular treatment, and following the advice, of a medical practitioner, and continue to be so incapacitated to the extent that you are unable to engage in any occupation (whether or not for reward) and are likely to be so disabled for life, or
- you have been unable to perform domestic duties or child rearing and you are confined to the home as a result of cardiomyopathy, primary pulmonary hypertension, major head trauma with permanent neurological deficit, motor neurone disease, multiple sclerosis with impairment, muscular dystrophy, paraplegia, quadriplegia, hemiplegia, diplegia, dementia and Alzheimer's disease, Parkinson's disease with impairment, blindness, loss of speech, loss of hearing in both ears, chronic lung disease, or severe rheumatoid arthritis (each as defined in the Schedule of Medical Definitions on page 30) and you are under the regular treatment, and following the advice, of a medical practitioner, and you continue to be so incapacitated to the extent that you are unable to engage in any occupation (whether or not for reward) and are likely to be so disabled for life.

Unlikely to do a suited occupation ever again

You were, on the date of disablement, aged 65 years or less and employed, and

- as a result of illness or injury, have been absent from all work for six consecutive months from the date of disablement and the Insurer considers, on the basis of medical and other evidence satisfactory to them, that you are unlikely ever to be able to engage in any occupation, whether or not for reward.
- where occupation means an occupation that you can perform on a full time or part time basis, based on the skills and knowledge you have acquired through previous education, training or experience.

Despite the above, you will not be totally and permanently disabled under 'Unlikely to do a suited occupation ever again' if:

- at any time after you cease employment but prior to the date of disablement, you are not employed for a period of six or more consecutive months from the termination date of your last period of employment ('period of unemployment'), and
- you do not, after your most recent period of unemployment but prior to the date of disablement, return to active employment for 40 consecutive working days.

Are there any limitations and exclusions applicable to the Life and Life and TPD insurance?

The following limitations and exclusions apply to your Life, Life and TPD cover:

- A benefit will not be paid if in our opinion:
 - your death is due to suicide or intentional self-inflicted injury and your death occurs within 12 months of your cover commencing, recommencing or increasing⁴;
 - your terminal illness or TPD is due to attempted suicide or intentional self-inflicted injury and the terminal illness or TPD occurs within 12 months of your cover commencing, recommencing or increasing⁴. This exclusion applies whether or not you are sane.
- A death benefit will not be paid if your death, TPD or terminal illness arises, directly or indirectly, as a result of your participation, or intention to participate, in illegal activity.
- A TPD benefit will not be paid for any condition which arises, directly or indirectly, as a result of permanent or temporary banning, deregistration or disqualification which:
 - arises solely from disciplinary action undertaken against you; and
 - prevents you from pursuing, practising or engaging your occupation or profession;
- A death benefit will not be paid if your death or terminal illness is caused directly or indirectly, because of a pandemic/endemic illness. This also relates to any other condition which is directly or indirectly caused by the pandemic/endemic illness and your death or terminal illness occurs within 30 days of your cover commencing, recommencing or increasing,⁵.
- A benefit will not be paid if your death is due to war (unless you die on war service) or if your terminal illness or TPD claim is the direct or indirect result of war.

⁴ Where the cover has increased, only the increased benefit is not payable.

⁵ This exclusion only applies 14 days from the date the insurer either advises the Trustee or makes a public declaration that it applies.

5. Income Protection insurance

What income protection cover is available?

The cover provided is an indemnity value policy which allows you to insure up to 75% of your pre-disability income. This means you will receive a benefit based on your income at the time you are disabled (even if it has decreased since your cover commenced). You can also apply to have your cover amount increased, effective 1 July each year, in line with CPI at a minimum of 3% and up to a maximum of 7.5% p.a. subject to providing health evidence to the Insurer.

For income protection cover, monthly benefits are subject to the waiting period you have applied for and will continue until the earliest of the date:

- you are no longer totally disabled
- the benefits have been paid for your benefit payment period (whether two years or to age 65, as applicable)
- your 65th birthday
- you die.

What is the waiting period?

The waiting period is the continuous period of time you have to be totally or partially disabled before you can qualify for a monthly benefit.

The waiting period starts from the day a registered medical practitioner certifies that you are disabled. You must be totally disabled for at least 14 of the first 19 consecutive days of the waiting period. If you return to work at full capacity the waiting period starts again unless it happens once and it is for no more than five consecutive days.

There is a choice of waiting periods: 30, 60 or 90 days. Insurance fees (premiums) vary according to the waiting period you choose.

Note: You should notify Centric Super of your intention to claim as soon as possible, regardless of your waiting period.

What is a benefit period?

The benefit period is the length of time the income protection benefit will be paid for. The benefit will cease on the earlier of the date:

- you are no longer disabled
- the benefit payment period ends
- you turn age 65, or
- you die.

You can choose from a benefit payment period of two years, or to age 65.

When does an income protection benefit become payable?

Income protection cover provides the following benefits and the events in which they are paid are detailed below:

- Total disability benefit
- Partial disability benefit
- Recurrent disability benefit.

Total Disability Benefit

The total disability benefit is paid if you are totally disabled for longer than your chosen waiting period. Insurance benefits can continue until the end of the benefit period, up to age 65, provided you continue to be totally disabled.

The amount of total disability benefit you will receive is the monthly benefit (see Glossary on page 26) subject to a maximum of $30,000 per month for benefit period of two years, or $25,000 per month for benefit periods in excess of two years.

Total disability means that you have ceased to be gainfully employed because of illness or injury, and are:

- unable to perform one or more of the income producing duties of your own occupation
- under the regular care of, and following the advice of, a registered medical practitioner satisfactory to the Insurer, and
- not working in any occupation, whether or not for reward.

The total disability benefit the Insurer will pay is the monthly benefit subject to certain offsets. See both the Glossary on page 26 for an explanation of 'monthly benefit' and Will the benefit payable be offset? on page 24.

To illustrate, if you become entitled to the total disability benefit, are not subject to any offsets, and you have the following cover:

Monthly benefit: $3,000

Waiting period: 90 days

The Insurer will pay a benefit of $3,000 per month provided that you continue to be totally disabled, after you have waited 90 days (the waiting period). The period during which the benefit will be paid depends on the benefit payment period that applies to you.

Partial Disability Benefit

A partial disability benefit is payable (subject to certain offsets, refer to Making a claim section) if you are partially disabled after the waiting period has ended. This benefit can continue until the end of the benefit period, provided you continue to be partially disabled, but not beyond age 65.

You are partially disabled if, because of illness or injury, you:

- have been totally disabled for at least 14 days
- are unable to work in your own occupation at full capacity immediately after you became totally disabled because of the illness or injury that caused your total disability
- are working in your own occupation in a reduced capacity, or working in another occupation
- are earning a monthly income that is less than your pre-disability income, and
- are under the regular care of, and following the advice of, a medical practitioner acceptable to the Insurer.

If you are partially disabled, the monthly benefit will be reduced by the amount calculated with the formula below:

$$\frac{\text{Current income}}{\text{Pre-disability income}} \times \text{monthly benefit}$$

For example, if you suffer a partial disability which results in your income decreasing from $4,000 to $2,000 per month and your monthly benefit is $3,000, the Insurer will calculate the partial disability benefit to which you may be entitled as follows:

$$\begin{aligned} $3,000 - ($2,000 \div $4,000 \times $3,000) \\ \text{Partial disability benefit} &= $3,000 - $1,500 \\ &= $1,500 \text{ per month.} \end{aligned}$$

Recurrent Disability Benefit

If you are disabled again from the same or a related cause within six months of you last receiving a disability benefit, the waiting period will not apply. The recurrence of your disability will be treated as a continuation of the original claim and also be treated as part of the original benefit payment period.

Are there any limitations and exclusions applicable to income protection insurance?

The Insurer will only pay benefits for one disability at a time. A benefit will not be paid if an illness or injury is directly or indirectly caused by:

- intentional self-inflicted injury or infection, or attempted suicide within 12 months of cover commencing, recommencing or increasing, whether or not you are sane at the time⁶
- your service in the armed forces of any country
- war, or
- normal pregnancy or childbirth.

A benefit will also not be paid for illness, injury or medical condition which arises, directly or indirectly, as a result of your:

- participation, or intention to participate, in illegal activity
- permanent or temporary banning, deregistration or disqualification, dismissal or other disciplinary action which arises solely from disciplinary action undertaken against you and which prevents you from pursuing, practising or engaging in your occupation or profession.

What if I take a period of leave without pay?

Cover will continue while you are on leave without pay from your employer, but your pre-disability income will be affected.

To illustrate, if you become entitled to the total disability benefit while you have been on leave without pay for eight months and you have the following cover:

Monthly benefit: $2,000

Waiting period: 90 days

if your monthly income is $3,000, we will calculate your pre-disability income as $(8 \times $0) + (4 \times $3,000) = $12,000$.

⁶ Where the cover has increased, only the increased benefit is not payable.

This means your monthly benefit will be subject to a maximum of 75% of your pre-disability income of $1,000 per month, i.e. $750. The date that the benefit period ends is subject to the same provision as when the total or partial disability benefit period ceases.

6. Making a claim

How do I make a claim?

You should notify Centric Super as soon as possible after you become aware of any claim or potential claim.

Before a benefit is paid you must:

- provide the Insurer with satisfactory proof of age, if required
- complete any relevant claim forms and provide supporting evidence of the claim
- provide the Insurer with such medical, income or other evidence as it requires to support the claim (at your expense)
- undergo any medical or other examination which the Insurer reasonably requires. The Insurer will generally pay these medical fees (apart from the cost of the initial medical appointment and report to support the claim) but will not pay any other costs such as travel expenses or non-attendance fees, and
- in the case of income protection cover, comply with any medical treatment or rehabilitation program that the Insurer considers reasonable.

What will occur if my claim is successful?

Life and TPD

Payments made as a result of death, TPD or terminal illness will be made to the Trustee. In distributing this money the Trustee will be guided by the relevant Superannuation Law and the Trust Deed, and in the event of a death benefit, any nomination of beneficiaries that you have made. Refer to the Additional Information Guide for more information on benefit payments.

If your life insurance amount exceeds $2 million and you are successful in lodging a claim for terminal illness, the excess life insurance amount will continue in Centric Super. For example, if your life insurance amount is $3 million and are successful in lodging a terminal illness claim for $2 million, then $1 million in life insurance will continue.

If your life insurance amount exceeds your TPD insurance amount and you are successful in lodging a claim for TPD, the excess life insurance amount will continue in Centric Super. For example, if your life insurance amount is $3 million and your TPD insurance amount is $1 million, and you are successful in lodging a TPD claim, then $2 million in life insurance will continue.

Income Protection

If you are successful in making an income protection claim, the insurance benefits start the day after the waiting period has ended. Benefit payments are payable monthly in arrears and are calculated for the part of the month they are payable. All initial certificates and evidence (including any medical evidence) required by the Insurer for the claim will be provided at your expense.

Insurance benefits will be paid to you as an income payment. The Insurer (on behalf of the Trustee) will provide you with a PAYG certificate, which you will need to include as income on your personal tax return.

Will the benefit payable be offset?

Your monthly benefit will be reduced if you receive other income and/or disability payments during the same period from:

1. any income (other than insurance benefits received under this Policy) or commutation of income, paid as a result of your illness or injury, including:
 - any sick, annual or long service leave entitlements
 - any amounts payable under legislation, such as worker's compensation or motor accident compensation
 - any insurance benefits payable under any other insurance policy that provides income benefits upon disability
2. any applicable social security payments
3. any income earned by personal exertion while disabled, but excluding any income earned from your employer
4. any income which, in the Insurer's opinion, you could reasonably be expected to earn in your occupation while disabled excluding any income actually earned from your employer.

Any income described in paragraph 1, 2 or 3 which is in the form of a lump sum or is exchanged for a lump sum will have a monthly equivalent of 1/60th of the lump sum over a period of 60 months.

Can the benefit be indexed?

If the Insurer is paying a disability benefit and the benefit payment period exceeds two years, at the end of every consecutive 12-month period, the Insurer will increase your monthly benefit by the percentage increase of the CPI (All Capital Cities) up to a maximum of 5%. The indexation of benefit payments is designed to help offset the impact of inflation.

Will I pay insurance fees while in receipt of an income protection benefit?

You are not required to pay income protection insurance fees while a total or partial disability benefit is being paid to you; but you must continue to pay insurance fees throughout the waiting period. You must also continue to pay insurance fees for any life or life and TPD cover you have while in receipt of an income protection benefit.

7. Transferring existing insurance cover

How do I transfer my existing insurance cover to Centric Super?

You can transfer insurance cover held within a super fund (excluding self-managed super funds and defined benefit arrangements) to Centric Super, provided your existing cover ceases before the transfer date, and you have waived any entitlement to continue your existing cover, whether pursuant to a continuation option or otherwise.

To be eligible to apply for the transfer of cover, the following eligibility rules apply:

- You must be:
 - less than 55 years of age, and
 - for income protection and TPD cover, able to work 35 hours per week.
- The cover to be transferred:
 - must have been in place for at least 12 months,
 - must not have an individual premium loading, and
 - if it is income protection cover, must not have a waiting period greater than 90 days.
- You cannot transfer your cover if:
 - you previously had an application for death, TPD or income protection declined,
 - you have been diagnosed with an illness that reduce your life expectancy to less than 24 months,
 - an amount has been paid (or is payable) by, or a claim has been lodged with, an insurer, super fund or government body because you have suffered a disability,
 - in the last 12 months, you have been advised to undergo treatment or to take medication prescribed by a medical practitioner that was intended to last three months or longer (excluding the contraceptive pill, hormone replacements, inhaled asthma medication or cold, flu or hay fever medication); or
 - due to injury, illness or impairment, you are unable to work 35 hours per week, or you have had your duties or workplace modified in the last two years and you have not resumed your pre-modified duties or you are working in a role or occupation that has been designed or chosen to suit your needs and you have not returned to your pre-modified occupation.

If you are in a high-risk occupation, you may not be eligible to transfer TPD and income protection cover.

The amount of cover for Life or Life and TPD that can be transferred including the members existing cover cannot exceed $1.5 million. For income protection cover the maximum transfer amount is $10,000 per month. This will replace your existing cover including waiting and benefit periods.

Your transferred cover starts on the transfer date, which is the later of:

- the date the insurer accepts the transfer, and
- the date that your cover ends in the previous super fund.

If you are not at work on the last working day immediately before the transfer date, your transferred cover will exclude cover for any disability arising from an illness or injury which prevented you from being at work. This exclusion will apply until you are at work again.

For more information, please refer to the Transfer of insurance cover form available from your Nominated Financial Adviser or Centric Super.
